50 minutes into the future...

published irregularly as SWILL fanzine since 1981 and since the American invasion as SWILL samizdat of the Woodstock and Oxford county resistances. Published weekly (usually)...

Summary of King William V's Victoria Day Message:

- Thanking the Russian Federation for their assistance that aided the NATO landings in Labrador and in Northwest Territories.
- NATO liberation of Goose Bay/Happy Valley and Inuvik providing a reliable air supply line for the Canadian Forces (and the Canadian insurgencies) via Airbus A400M NATO transport aircraft.
- 50 JAS 39 Gripen fighters fitted with Storm Shadow missiles have landed in Goose Bay/Happy Valley for the RCAF.
- 23 old Tornado GR4 fitted with Brimstone II missiles have been supplied to the RCAF in Inuvik.
- NATO infantry and armour have landed at Red Bay, Labrador.
- The United Kingdom of Great Britain and Northern Ireland and the Commonwealth stand strong with the Canadian people.

National News:

- NATO and Russian Federation discuss joint operations to liberate the Canadian Arctic.
- Acting Prime Minister Mélanie Joly will not run in the upcoming Liberal Party leadership convention in August.
- Parliament has been recessed for the summer. The Canadian government-in-exile thanks the gracious hosts in Eindhoven and will resume sitting in September, this time in Apeldoorn.
- Abraham Schweih and Wayne Harrelson are dead. These American criminals had been hired by the Trump family and the USA oligarchs to assassinate the Cabinet of the Canadian government-in-exile, in the Netherlands. Fortunately, the American plot was thwarted by CSIS and AIVD; however, the American hitmen were successful in assassinating Prime Minister Mark Carney later that same day. Canadian Special Operations Forces Command have hunted down and eliminated these two assassins, in Egypt.
- The government of France has announced that 5 Rafale C aircraft and 15 ASMP-A nuclear missiles will be delivered to the RCAF this autumn.

Local News:

- As we go to press (May 24th) there remain parts of Toronto under the control of local resistance and insurgency cells. The oligarchs in Washington are deploying more USA troops to Toronto to control (aka massacre) the civilian resistances.
- In Woodstock (May 21st), the bridge on Vansittart Avenue over the Thames River has been destroyed, as has the smaller bridge at Tecumseh Street. The Oxford Road 4 Bridge was damaged.
- Last night (May 23rd) in Woodstock, fifteen soldiers of the Occupation Forces were killed when the food they ordered and eat was discovered to have been poisoned. All of the staff who worked at the Pizza Hut on Huron Street were rounded up and locked in the restaurant by the USA Occupation Forces; the commercial unit was set on fire by the Occupation Forces, who stood guard and threatened to shoot anyone who attempted to extinguish the fire or anyone trapped in the building who tried to escape the blaze. Occupation Forces finally allowed the Fire Department access to that end of the mini-mall only after the roof of the commercial unit collapsed in. There were no survivors.

Lord SWILL Mini-Rant:

While I am not sad that Woodstock will no longer have a Pizza Hut, and I am certain this loss is mourned down in Plano, Texas. It is not the torching of the pizzeria by the Occupation Forces that bothers me. It is the lack of any gram of due process.

Of course, this IS the American Way.

Did someone working at the Woodstock Pizza Hut poison the pizzas intended for the two squads of soldiers of the Occupation Forces? Or was the poison applied to the pizzas at the address? Who poisoned the pizzas? We don't know, as there was no investigation, only reaction.

When those two squads of soldiers on R&R failed to respond, another squad was dispatched for a wellness check. On arrival, that squad killed the eight sex workers present, then, went on to exact revenge (on orders from Toronto) upon the local Pizza Hut. Thus, the "investigation" involved the summary execution of only witnesses on the scene, the sex workers, followed by the murder of the remaining potential witnesses, by burning them to death. No interrogations, no living witnesses, no forensic evidence.

It would appear that the Occupation Forces are police, judge, jury, and executioner. This is reminiscent of the USA alternative press comic book from the 1980s Judge Dredd (who was all of law enforcement and criminal justice rolled up into one, protecting Mega-City One in America from the evil mutants and outlaws). Very authoritarian. I kind of preferred American Flagg!

So, who did poison the two squads of the Occupation Forces? Was it someone at the pizzeria? Was it the sex workers? Was it someone unknown? We will never know. And that is the problem. There is no rule of law; just the attitude of the moment, put into action, by those who enforce power over the citizens of Woodstock, the USA Occupation Forces.

Happy, Happy Days under USA military rule... Fun; WoW!

Lady Oksana Recipes:

In the weeks ahead there will be celebrations for the anniversaries of the American invasion of Canada (June 12) and for Annexation Day (June 30), the latter which we Canadian patriotes observe as Day of Mourning where we commemorate our dead and mourn of lost ones. All of us lost loved ones during the Three Days of Terror as the cowardly Yanks saturation bombed our cities before their land invasion on June the 12th.

Here at SWILL we feel that it is appropriate to plan some fireworks for the Occupation Forces, and their collaborators as they celebrate June 12th and June 30th.

Here is my favourite recipe for the Molotov cocktail. Oddly enough, the recipe is from the CIA and USA government approved, for use ONLY by insurgencies who are fighting against the enemies of the USA. That is a mere technicality, Yanks. We can use them on you, and we will.
